PARIS HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The golden anniversary of Arbor Day will be celebrated at the Paris High School to-morrow (Saturday) morning, April 22, at ten o'clock. The exercises will be in charge of the Senior Class in Economics. Prof. Wiest, of Kentucky University, will be the principal speaker. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Frankfort High School won the interscholastic debating contest with the Paris High School debating team in the P. H. S. auditorium Monday night. Miss Gay Speakes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Speakes, defeated Miss Lucille Campbell, of Frankfort, for declamatory honors. The Frankfort team which took the affirmative of the subject, "Resolved, That the Percentage of Immigration in the Dillingham Bill Asked by the Congress in 1929, Should Be Retained," was composed of Louis Quire, John Bull and Louis Carroll, while the members of the Paris team were Elizabeth Stewart, Elizabeth Lileston and Rene Clark. Miss Speakes' prize-winning oration was "On The Beach." Miss Campbell's subject was "The Teacher, A Hope of America." The judges were Prof. E. F. Parquhar, of the University of Kentucky, Prof. Clarence Freeman, of Transylvania College, and Prof. W. B. Jones, of Georgetown College.

Miss Ellen Blanding, Supervisor of Music in the Paris City Schools, will assist Miss Maude Lindsay, the noted writer of children's stories, in a program to be given in Louisville, on Friday, April 28. The occasion of Misses Lindsay and Blanding's program is the meeting of the International Kindergarten Union, which will be held in the South for the second time in the long period since its organization. Noted educators will be in attendance during the week's meeting and will address the teachers. Among these will be Miss Patty Hill, Teachers' College, Columbia University, who was largely instrumental in building up the splendid Kindergarten system in Louisville, her native city, and also has been an inspiration to all Kentucky Kindergartens.

Monday morning, April 24, the students of the Paris City Schools will be given the opportunity to see "The Last of the Mohicans," at the Grand Opera House. The management of the Grand Opera House has arranged this special matinee for the benefit of the children of the Paris Public Schools. The admission to this matinee will be twenty cents. Children are requested to bring the money with them Monday morning ready for the show at ten o'clock. The management of the theatres in Paris have co-operated with the school this year in a splendid way to have better pictures for the children of the city. Remember the date, Monday, April 24.

BOURBON STUDENTS IN KENTUCKY UNIVERSITY

Claiborne Lisle, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Lisle, of Paris, entered the Freshman Class of the Engineering College of the University of Kentucky at the beginning of the present school term, and has proved already that he is fitted for such work.

Mr. Lisle, who graduated from Paris High School in the class of '21, made a good record in that institution. He was very active in all high school activities, being a member of the football team in his senior year, and treasurer of the senior class. He stood at the top in grades made in high school, especially mathematics, and it is hoped by all his friends that he will keep up his record in college.

Miss Miriam E. Galloway, of Paris, a graduate of the Paris High School, registered in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Kentucky last September. She is the daughter of Grant Galloway, of Paris. While in high school she was a member of the Glee Club, and took leading parts in plays for three years. Miss Galloway intends to major in English in the University.

THE BOURBON COUNTY PUBLIC SCHOOL COMMENCEMENT

What promises to be the most attractive Public School commencement ever held in Bourbon county will be the one held in the High School auditorium Wednesday morning, June 7. At this time it is hoped to have two hundred Bourbon county boys and girls receive their county diplomas. Prof. Henry Rhodes, of the University of Kentucky, will deliver the class address. Miss Blanding, of the Paris City School will have charge of the music.

It is hoped that every school in Bourbon county will be represented with graduates at this commencement. All the teachers in the county are urged to have their students take the County Diploma Examination in May, and be ready for this commencement. Parents are urged to co-operate with the teachers in every school in the county, and help to make Bourbon county the leading school county in Kentucky.

BIG SAVING SHOWN

According to information from the Paris office of the Burley Tobacco Marketing Association, the cost of handling the 8,113,870 pounds of tobacco which passed through the local tobacco warehouse floors this season was 17.26 cents per hundred pounds. This was a saving in this county of $50,907.42 over the old methods of marketing when a charge of eighty cents per hundred was made.

The members of the Association in this county are greatly pleased with the economical management of the business of the Association. The present outlook tends toward a much larger crop for the coming year than that of the past year.

LIGHTNING FIRES BARN

Lightning struck a barn on the farm of Lee Houston, on the Jack sonville pike, near Paris, setting it on fire. In the blaze the barn, about fifty tons of hay and a large lot of farming implements were destroyed. The farm is occupied by Leslie Courtney.

BASE BALL

Capt. Arthur Hancock's rejuvenated Paris Pirates made good their boast of taking the North Middletown High School team's scalp, which they did Wednesday in a one-sided game. The score stood 16 to 4 when the Pirates quit slugging and scoring. The individual members of the Pirates played like old veterans, and their teamwork was better than one could expect from a youthful organization. Capt. Hancock and his Pirates are coming strong in the base ball world.

The Paris High School team was defeated by the Lexington Model High School on the Paris grounds Wednesday afternoon by a score of 14 to 5. The Lexington team out played the locals at all points and scored in every inning but the fourth and eighth. Paris got six hits off of Edward's delivery.

The Church League has secured the old Blue Grass League ball park in White addition, now owned by James Daugherty, on which their games will be staged this season. A force of men was put to work yesterday with tractor, scrapers and rollers, putting the grounds in condition for the opener on May 2. A new grandstand and bleachers will be built. It is expected the grounds will be in good shape in about a week. Opening day will be featured by a parade of the four teams in uniform, headed by the Y. M. C. A. Band. The uniforms were received and distributed to the players last night. The Church League anticipates a big season on the diamond this year, with the new grounds affording better accommodations for a larger attendance.

All teams in the new Blue Grass League will start hitting on all six on Sunday, April 23. Paris' first game will be with Lexington at Lexington. "Red" Roberts, of Centre College football fame, will officiate as umpire, it was stated yesterday. Sunday's games will be as follows: Maysville at Winchester, Paris at Lexington, Cynthiana at Mt. Sterling. The first at home game for Paris will be with Mt. Sterling on Thursday, April 27.

The Paris High School team will play the Carlisle High School team at Jackson's Park, in Carlisle, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

THE BOURBON GUN CLUB

The Bourbon Gun Club held their first shoot of the season Wednesday afternoon at their new club grounds in East Paris, on the Dan Isgrigg farm. All the boys had many nice things to say about the new club house, flag pole, etc., in fact several said they did not know of nicer grounds any place. The afternoon was bright, but the wind did blow, and some of the targets are still winging. However, all the boys enjoyed the afternoon's sport and the anxious for the next shoot. The trophy donated by Cahal's barber shop, $10.00 in trade, was won by Richard Jones, who lives on the Isgrigg farm. Next shoot will be May 3. Here's hoping the wind will not be so angry that afternoon. Visitors always welcome.

FUGITIVE APPREHENDED

Carl Clark, colored, wanted by the police of Paris, on a charge of shooting and wounding another colored man named Station Shawhan. In this city, some time ago, was arrested in Winchester by Patrolman Dykes, and brought to the Paris jail. Clark was also wanted on the charge of carrying concealed weapons, and for firing his pistol in an attempt to intimidate Patrolman Geo. Judy, following a raid on a crap game a few weeks ago.

FORMER PARISIAN REVISITS OLD SCENES

Mr. John D. Feeney, formerly a member of the Louisville & Nashville's local force, as ticket agent and chief clerk in the freight office, and at present located in San Francisco, as Freight Agent for the Western Pacific Railroad Company, accompanied by Mrs. Feeney, is visiting friends in Kentucky. Mr. Feeney's itinerary included Paris, where he has a large circle of warm friends.

Mr. Feeney is a son of the late Capt. John D. Feeney, for many years a member of the Lexington police force, and a number of years Sanitary Inspector at Lexington. After leaving Paris, Mr. Feeney went to Lexington, where he took a position in the L. & N. service with his uncle, Frank B. Carr, who was for a long time general agent in Paris. Mr. Feeney has been on the Pacific coast for the past ten years, and in that time his advancement has been very rapid, until he now holds one of the largest and most responsible railroad jobs in the California metropolis, with a force of more than one hundred working under him in the freight office where he is chief.

This is the first visit Mr. Feeney has made to his old stamping ground in many years and he is being given the "glad hand" by all his old friends and former business associates. Mr. and Mrs. Feeney expect to remain in Kentucky for a month, and will visit relatives and friends in Paris, Richmond, Stanford, Lexington and other points.

AUTOISTS' NARROW ESCAPE

While driving a machine en route home, from Paris to Winchester, two brothers named Rowland, druggists of Irvine, had a narrow escape when their machine left the road near a bridge spanning Strode's Creek at Thatcher's Mill. The machine turned over and landed in the creek, a short distance below. The machine was slightly damaged, but the occupants escaped injury.

EDITORIAL FLINGS

It used to be said that a woman's understandings were not to be discussed, even in private, but the short skirts of this period reveal they were, quite evidently, made to be seen.

Fashion notes say that bathing suits this year are to be without backs. Well, that's the only place they could trim anything off of them if they are going to wear bathing suits at all.

Fisher's conception of the incomparably beautiful American girl is a young woman lying in bed smoking a cigarette. Beautiful, maybe, but she doesn't look as if she would get up for breakfast, to say nothing of getting up to cook breakfast.

Of course there ought to be more attention to business in summer, and less time devoted to baseball, but in justice to the great American game it may be said that making money is not as satisfying as seeing the home team win. Respectfully submitted for the approval of Paris business men—and "fans."

Talk about "exclusive clubs!" Why, we heard a few days ago of such an such an organization existing in Paris. According to the informant this organization is composed of society women. They play bridge—and other things. The proceedings are opened with prayer, followed by serving of something that may be tea, and maybe not. In fact, the wise ones in the know say the liquid looks, smells and tastes exactly like our old-time friends, Manhattan and Martini cocktails. Cigarettes are also alleged to be on the serving list. The devotees meet in an exclusive way, play exclusively, gossip exclusively, get mad frequently, and, in fact, in many ways, are really human beings, despite the society tinsel and glitter that forms the outer frescoing of this exclusive club.

KENTUCKY MAY BE LEFT OUT IN DEAL

States to the north and south of Kentucky will have to seek some route for travel to the North and South other than through Kentucky if reports received in Nashville and cities to the south regarding the roads in this State are true. P. N. Ester, of Nashville, president of the Tennessee Good Roads Association, told the Louisville Automobile Club. He said that reports received there were that the roads of Kentucky "before another winter will be impassable."

He said it would cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 to build Kentucky's 4,000 miles of primary road system and that no county or State had ever succeeded in building a highway system from annual tax receipts.

"Kentucky's geographic position and contour make it a great obstruction to North and South traffic," he said, "unless some steps are taken to put its roads into passable conditions."

"If the route from Nashville to Louisville is closed, and there appears to be no present prospects of its improvement, it will be necessary that Tennessee and the States south of it seek some other outlet to the north and that the States north seek some other route south."

OPPOSITION TO BURLEY MARKET PLAN EXPLAINED

"If tobacco growers will keep in mind the fact that those who are asking them not to join the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association are persons who expect to make money off the grower, we shall have no trouble in making our organization 100 per cent. strong," said President James C. Stone, of the Burley Association, in response to an inquiry as to propaganda being circulated quietly by mail among tobacco growers of the district.

"These men have lived, just as the rest of us who were in the warehouse business used to live," said Mr. Stone, "off the business brought to us by the grower. They are hardly to be blamed for desiring to continue to live off the work of the growers, but it is only fair to the grower that he should understand exactly what is involved in his staying out of the Association."

"There can be little doubt that the formation of the Burley Association was a factor in the better prices paid this year on the independent markets. This fact is generally recognized now even by those who, remaining out of the association, profited by its organization."

"Supply and demand, indeed, do regulate tobacco prices, or would regulate prices but for the system of every farmer competing with every other farmer. In case of the production of a surplus of tobacco this year, under the old system of marketing, the surplus, which would be thrown on the market, of course, with the actual needs of the manufacturers, would break the price of every pound of tobacco sold, and under the old system there is no way of preventing this. Under the co-operative marketing system, on the other hand, the manufacturers are offered only what they need and at the time they need it. There is no expense of auctioneers, in fact, it is my belief that the selling expense will be cut in half by the new system, if not more. Of course, the tobacco grower pays this expense. It is taken out of his crop, when he sells it. If he does not rush his crop to market, but delivers it to the Burley Tobacco Growers' Association to be sold for him, does not pay these warehouse charges. He pays nothing except the expense of conducting the association, and that, in my opinion, will be very much less than the expense of conducting warehouses under the old system, in which the profits of the warehouse business went into the pockets of the warehousemen."

"I have no fear that the growers, once they understand the facts in this matter, will fail to take advantage of this opportunity to free themselves from the shackles of a marketing system that has demonstrated that it can set aside the law of supply and demand, as it did last year. Tobacco interests of Lexington and Central Kentucky, at considerable expense, made a careful survey of the situation in the winter of 1920, a few weeks before the market opened. We proved, not only to our own satisfaction, but the satisfaction of government experts, that the crop of 1920 was considerably higher than that of 1919, which averaged 35½ cents a pound. In the face of this fact, and in the face of the further fact that the demand for tobacco products passed all previous records, the crop was literally taken from the growers at prices but little more than a third of those of the previous year."

"If the tobacco growers will heed the advice of those who are interested in their welfare, those whose prosperity depends upon the prosperity of the tobacco growers—the bankers, the merchants, the lawyers, the doctors, the preachers—of their communities, we haven't a doubt they will come with us in the Burley Association. If they are honestly in doubt as to what they should do in regard to joining or staying out of the association, we urge them to ask of their neighbors who have delivered their crops to the association as to their experience and as to whether they are satisfied with results."

"It is my firm conviction that the new system of selling tobacco has come to stay, that the growers will never go back to the old way of 'dumping' every man for himself and every grower in competition with every other one, selling their crops without regard to the manufacturer or the cost of producing the crop. In the words of the funny page in the papers: 'Them days are gone forever,' I am convinced."

"Under the system of marketing tobacco co-operatively, the grower receives every cent his crop brings, after the expense of operating his own association is paid. No profit is made off him by any member or officer of his association, not only is that true, but if any officer of this association, or any employee, attempts to profit by dealing in certificates issued to growers, he immediately loses his position with this association."

"Before growers allow themselves to be influenced by propaganda of interests seeking to exploit them to profit from their work, they should study the situation, ask their neighbors in the association and consult their banker and their merchants as to the wisdom of coming in or staying out. We are perfectly willing to abide by the result of such inquiry."

ADVISES HOLDING YOUR WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Owners of the 1918 issue of War Savings Stamps are being advised by Postmaster Payne to hold them until their maturity on January 1, 1923, about 8 months hence. In that period they will earn over 13% interest per annum on the average cost price, it was pointed out.

To give some idea of the advantage of holding these 1918 stamps until their maturity date, Postmaster Payne stated that $1,000 worth of stamps, costing $836 in 1918, are worth $926 during the current month, but in 8 months will be redeemed in cash by the government for $1,000, of $74 more than their present cash value.

In order to finance the redemption of these stamps the Treasury Department is issuing a series of Treasury Savings Certificates in denominations $1,000, $100 and $25, costing $800, $80 and $20 each, respectively. These certificates run for five years and pay 4 1/2% interest compounded semi-annually, and are free from all State, county and city taxes, and Postmaster Payne states that he can supply any desired quantity of these certificates.

KEEP IN TOUCH WITH THE GAS MAN

Carelessness and thoughtlessness are the chief causes of gas wastage. Hundreds of thousands of dollars could be saved yearly by household commanders if they would only keep in touch with the gas man.

He will tell them not to use giant burners when the small burner serves the same purpose; not to heat a full kettle of water when a quart will do; not to permit the gas flame to overlap the sides of a cooking utensil; not to keep the gas on full after a pot starts to boil; not to have a long, yellow, smoky flame, but a small blue one to the burner; not to use a broken gas mantle; not to permit burners to become dirty; not to wash them in boiling water and soda at least once a month, and to dry them before using; and to plan cooking so that one burner or one oven cooks more than one article of food at the same time.

Many of the knots of household problems would cease to be by keeping in touch with the gas man.

RELIGIOUS

A Resume of Events in Religious Circles For Present and Future

The Sunday School opens promptly at 9:30 a. m. and all who are not now in Sunday school are invited to join this one.

At 6:45 p. m. the Epworth League will hold its regular devotional service. A most hearty welcome awaits every one at all services in this church.

Rev. T. S. Smylie, pastor of the Paris Presbyterian church, attended the sessions of the West Lexington Presbytery, held in Cynthiana Tuesday, Wednesday and yesterday.

At the Methodist church next Sunday at 10:45 a. m., the pastor, Rev. C. H. Greer, will preach on "Sabbath Observance," and at 7:30 p. m. his subject will be "Jesus and Nicodemus."

There will be services at the usual hours. The pastor, Rev. T. S. Smylie, will be absent for two or three weeks. Arrangements have been made for the pulpit to be supplied each Sunday. The speaker for Sunday will be announced later.

At the recent meeting of the Maysville District Conference of the Methodist church, in Paris, the following were elected as delegates to the annual conference, to be held in Harrodsburg, in September: J. W. Asbury, Mrs. A. W. Hinton, G. H. Moore, W. W. Ball, Sr., W. D. Snyder, Mrs. R. P. Moody and Henry A. Power and Miss Olivia Orr, the latter two from the Paris church.

HOW TO BE HEALTHY

A comfortable income is a fair passport to happiness, but only if there is good health to complement it. To a greater extent than any other factor good health is the key to an enjoyable existence. Next to the weather, men spend most time narrating their ill health experiences.

To a considerable degree this condition, the doctors assert, is man's awon fault. The alternative to poor health is sensible exercise; there is a general indictment that as a people Americans are too ready to watch others disport for their amusement and not ready enough to play themselves for the good of their health as well as for pleasure.

Now that the out-of-doors days are at hand this is a subject worth pondering. It is a peculiar thing that the boy who plays baseball on the vacant lot, who participates in track, football or basketball activities and thinks his young life inequitably disturbed without that devotion to healthful pursuits, is willing to abandon every one of them when he reaches maturity and generally takes his exercise behind the steering wheel of an automobile. For active sport he is willing to sit in the stands and chew gum.

One criticism has been leveled at the educational system that develops group sports which become inconvenient for the individual to pursue when the groups are scattered on leaving school, and fails to teach those athletics which one or a couple can undertake, golf and tennis being examples. If this criticism is valid there rests none the less on the individual the burden of proving himself mentally incapable of suggesting a correction in his own case, by supplying the initiative for himself.

The greatest corrective of adult ill-health is universal adult amateur athletics. Men should play themselves as well as watch others. The boy at college does not know the gloomy moments the man experiences worrying about his stomach, or his head, or his eyes, or his liver; it is incomprehensible to him. Yet within a decade, if he departs if he deserts his open air medicine, he, too, will begin to think twice about pie and be taking advice on the baleful effects of fried foods.

The national adult health could be vastly improved, without doubt, if everyone could be induced to resume, in a degree suited to him, the athletics of younger days. There is merit equally in the modest hike and the more intelligently studied golf ball, in a humble game of hand ball or an abandon of tennis.

"The play's the thing."

"THE STROLLERS" AT GRAND, MONDAY, APRIL 24

The Strollers of the University of Kentucky will present "The Thirteenth Chair," by Bayard Viller, at the Opera House, in this city, Monday, April 24. This is one of the most thrilling production that has been given by some of the most eminent actors in the country, has been surpassed in length of continuous run by only two other plays in the history of dramatic productions in America. The well balanced cast under the supervision of Prof. Carol Sax, is having marked success in rehearsals, and the play is said by those who have witnessed the rehearsals to be the best ever staged by the Stroller organization.

All of the scenery used in the play was made by the students themselves, under the direction of Prof. Carol Sax, of the Art Department. This years is probably the first time in the history of the Stroller Club that so much emphasis has been placed on the scenery but, the setting calls for elaborate stage design. Ordinary scenery would not harmonize with the plot, and for this reason the students of the Art Department gave generously of their time and talent in order to make this the most elaborate stage setting ever used in an amateur play.

"The Thirteenth Chair" is a mystery play and the interest which is aroused in the first few minutes of the play is sustained until five minutes before the curtain falls on the last act, at which time the "secret" about which the entire plot is centered is given out. Every act and scene in the play is one of excitement and mystery. It calls for professional acting, and this the cast has met in every demand. The acting done by some members of the cast is of professional caliber.

The cast is composed of the following young University students, the names given in order of importance:

Rosalie La Grange—Mary Lyons, Lexington.

Helen O'Neal—Frances Smith, Lexington.

Inspector Donahue—John Albright, Mt. Vernon.

Will Crosby—Daniel Morse, Lexington.

Mr. Crosby—William Finn, Burlington.

Mrs. Crosby—Eleanor Morse, Lexington.

Edward Wales—Tom Brooks, Covington.

Hellen Trent—Kitty Conroy, Mt. Sterling.

Mr. Trent—John Vogel, New York City.

Miss Erskine—Mary Peterson, Cynthiana.

Philip Mason—Earl Heavrin, Owensboro.

Mary Eastwood—Ann Hickman, Washington, D. C.

Howard Standish—Edgar Gans, Louisville.

Grace Standish—Nan Chenault, Maysville.

Polloc (the butler)—Wm. Moore, Clay.

Dunn—John Whittaker, Russellville.

This cast was chosen by John Burks, director of the Stroller Club from a number over one hundred, who tried out for parts at tryouts which were held a few months ago. It took weeks to select the cast from the large number of applicants, but finally the process of elimination and shifting of parts, the best material was left and the parts, as given above were assigned to them because they were best suited to the particular character parts which they are to interpret. The director was assisted by Professor Mikasell, Prof. Carol Sax, Mr. Enoch Grehan and Miss Marguerite McLaughlin.

A warning has been sent to county and city superintendents by Geo. At least 1,000 such teachers, many of them holding no certificates, are now employed in Kentucky, according to information obtained by the State Superintendent. The law does not permit their employment or the expenditures of school funds for paying them.

It is said that several teachers of the Bourbon county schools are affected by the ruling.

AND THE GOVERNMENT PAYS.

The excitement in Congress occasioned by Senator New's daring experiment in addressing his Indiana constituents over the government radio needs no explanation.

It is clear at once even to the most obtuse of legislators that Senator New has hit on something of infinite possibilities. The great difficulty a Congressman faces is the necessity of explaining to interested voters things he does not want to explain. A Congressman would be a very happy man if he could go back home and hold his public discourse to a fairly modest estimate of his own public worth; that angry and determined constituents should ask him, if a Senator, how he voted on the Newberry seat, or, if a Representative, how he stands on the bonus, is, to say the least, annoying.

At this point in comes the radio. Senator New points the way to a campaign millennium, where the candidate does all the talking. He says, by implication, "Here's a good one! Let radio do it. No hall rent, no cigars, no hecklers—you don't have to explain anything, and the government pays for it."

The machine was found by Lexington police abandoned on the streets in Lexington and was restored to Mr. Bryan. Police were of the opinion that the machine was the one which struck and killed an unknown man on the Georgetown pike near Georgetown early Monday morning, some time after the owner missed it.

FORMER PARIS ATTORNEY FRACTURES HIP

Friends and relatives in Paris received messages yesterday stating that Mr. John Shropshire Smith, formerly a member of the Bourbon county bar, had fallen down the steps at his home in Indianapolis, suffering a fractured hip.

Mr. Smith during his residence in Paris was a prominent attorney, having filled the offices of County Attorney and Commonwealth's Attorney for this district. He is a son of the late Dr. R. O. Smith, and a brother of T. Porter Smith and Mrs. Clarence Wood, all former residents of Paris. Mr. Smith's host of friends here regret to learn of his accident.

—Of the many charming social functions in honor of the bride-elect, the dainty little Miss Margaret Ferguson, the dinner-bridge given by her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Many of these were sent by admiring friends to celebrate the coming event, which will be the most elaborate wedding of the spring.

SPRING BOOKS LATEST

All things come in season, even books. The sun regulates not only the price of eggs by encouraging an abundance of them in the spring; it decides in a most arbitrary fashion that even human beings shall change their interests with the changing seasons.

Not only does it relegate to the attic skates and hockey sticks; not only does it change the display in the show windows of the stores; it decides quite definitely that with the changing seasons one must think other thoughts and read other kind of books.

"Spring fever books," suggests an announcement of a library in one of the big cities; and follows up the suggestion with a list of books to none of which anybody would have given the slightest attention two or three months ago. There are books on bees, books on botany, books on flowers and fruit culture, and books on shrubs and soils. For those who desire a more vigorous pastime than gardening this reading list suggests books on swimming and tennis, on golf and baseball and fishing and camping and all manner of outdoor sports. In some sly manner a book on jui-jitsu has crept into the list. So also has a book on pugilism. These are probably intended for readers who wish to carry over into spring the more vigorous activities of winter.

The home-making instinct, always very active in spring, is satisfied with books on domestic architecture, house decoration and building in general. Merele as a suggestion that even spring has its annoyances the compiler of the list suggests a book or two on insects. This rounds out fairly well the manifold activities which the coming of spring brings with it.

And all this merely because in the spring and summer the rays of the sun hit this part of the earth at a slightly different angle from what they do in the winter. What a lot of commotion the sun is responsible for! No wonder that in the infancy of the race there were sun-worshippers. The sun does pretty well rule man's destinies.

Civil service should not be at any political party's service.

A sewing circle has sewed up many a reputation.

OBSERVATIONS

Upholding a government too often takes the form of holding it up.

There is nothing in the price of lumber to indicate that it was ever cut down.

Peace seems to have arrived almost everywhere except in Ireland and in Congress.

One swallow may not make a summer, but it is often enough to lay a man up for one.

Does the speaker who says 1924 will be woman's year mean that it is divisible by four?

Every cloud has its silver lining. George Harvey will not make a speech at the Genoa parley.

The official status of many married men when their wives are out of the house is speaker pro tem.

This proposal to deport foreign bootleggers may be the logical sequence of the "America for Americans" idea.

Scientists declare the earth is a ball of jelly. Autoists who have been stuck up to the hubs in it will not dispute the assertion.

Perhaps the miners struck against a reduction from war pay because a reduction would prevent accumulating anything to fall back on in case of a strike.

Some disconsolate women who have been restricted to the neighborhood in their attempts to learn everything that is going on will never be happy until they have a radio.

An Omaha prosecuting attorney had to argue so powerfully to obtain the conviction of an alien bootlegger that his right arm was dislocated. He'll be for deporting them after this.

Most wars have started in April, not counting the annual baseball scraps.

Mexico is beginning to talk about arranging to pay her debts. That is as commendable in a nation as in an individual.

The United States and Turkey are not at Genoa. This may be an inkling as to the Harding administration's foreign policy.

A month's lecture tour in the United States netted Margot Asquith $35,000. Lady Astor thinks she could use that much.

Senator Penrose left a very modest estate—just about enough, say, to be elected to the Senate three times had he found it as hard as Newberry.

That Congressman who wanted to appropriate 30 cents to enforce the civil service law doesn't care how he thrown the government's money away.

A sporting writer says athletes do their best work on an empty stomach, but this may only be an alibi for Republican promises of a full dinner pail.

There is nothing more irritating than the season's first touch of sunburn, unless it is engaging in a heated argument with a man who is able to prove he is right.

German marks to the former value of $2,000,000,000 are held by Americans who bought them as an "investment," which is two billions that fake oil stock promoters can not get.

DYE SKIRT, DRESS OR FADED DRAPERIES IN DIAMOND DYES

Each package of "Diamond Dyes" contains directions so simple that any woman can dye or tint faded, shabby skirts, dresses, waists, coats, sweaters, stockings, hangings, draperies, ever thing like new. Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—then perfect home dyeing is guaranteed, even if you have never dyed before. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods. Diamond Dyes never streak, spot, fade or run.

Most of the uncivil talk about the civil service appears to be justified.

When a man kills another man over a woman, why the expense of an inquest?

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 50c.

WHAT ONE READS COUNTS

Because a man has the reputation of being "well read" does not mean that he reads omnivorously. Franklin is often pictured as a man who read everything he could acquire, even taking time from his work to read. But in Franklin's day literature had not been commercialized to the extent to which it is to-day and only the very best thought on any subject ever found its way into type.

It is worse than a waste of time to read much of the diatribe that is to-day printed for the dollars a glib public will pay to it. It not only serves no worthy purpose but inculcates a perverted viewpoint of the fundamental facts of life itself. The number of things which is desirable to read is so large and the average person's leisure so limited that much discrimination should be exercised in the selection of reading matter.

There is such a thing, also, as excessive reading of books to which no objection can be raised. It may cause mental indigestion. In some persons it is not conducive to original thinking, since they get in the habit of depending on the things which they find in print instead of working out problems for them selves.

It is best to choose reading matter carefully and deliberately, and to read carefully and with full understanding. The quality of what is pursued is what counts, not the quantity.

HOW'S THIS?

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE will do what we claim for it—rid your system of Catarrh or Deafness caused by catarrh. We do not recommend it for any other disease.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a liquid, taken internally, and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and assisting Nature in restoring normal conditions.

STRIKES A LIABILITY

It seems a bit strange that any person or body of men should seriously advocate the continuance of a strike as a method of bringing about a settlement between capital and labor, but labor still has some members who refuse to profit by the experience of the past.

It would be impossible to marshal the figures representing the losses, direct and indirect, which have resulted from strikes in the United States in the last twenty years and more. The workers always were the greatest losers in wages, but employers and the public have been heavy sufferers through suspension of work.

There might be some justification of the strike if workers could be made the beneficiaries in any way, but the record does not show that anything has been gained which would not have been possible by adoption of the policy of mediation when disputes arise.

ENGLISH WOMEN SAYS "AMERICANS ARE WONDERFUL"

"A wonderful, wonderful people," was Mrs. Margot Asquith's description of America as she disembarked from the steamship Mauretania at Southampton, England, returning from a lecture tour of the United States. She declared she enjoyed every minute she spent in America, although she did not contemplate returning.

Prohibition, she asserted, was the only fraud she found. She declared the prohibition law worked most unfairly between the rich and poor.

When informed that many people expected her to lecture on her experiences in America, she replied emphatically.

"Well, they will be jolly well disappointed."

Asked if she was going into politics she retorted:

"What is my husband but a politician. He isn't a jackass. I've been in politics all my life. You don't suppose I'm going on the stage, do you?"

BETTER PRICES FOR TOBACCO

Better prices for Burley Tobacco already have been paid on account of the organization of the Burley Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association.

Men who remained outside the organization shared in the benefits accruing from the better prices due to the organization of the Association, there is mighty little doubt about that.

Your banker, your merchant, your professional men, all favor the plan on which this Association was organized. The growers who have delivered their crops are pleased with the result. Ask any of them.

There are now more than 58,000 growers of Burley Tobacco who have come to the definite conclusion to drop the old wasteful dumping system of selling their tobacco and to adopt the modern, sensible, business-like merchandising plan so successful wherever it has been given a fair trial.

The only people who are asking you to stay out of the Association are those who would profit by your staying out. YOU will not profit, but THEY will, and they know it.

Come join your neighbors in this movement and let's make it unanimous. For information and contract write to

WHAT EVERY COMPLEXION NEEDS

Once every day your skin should be gently but thoroughly cleansed of all accumulations of dirt, perspiration, cold cream, rouge and powder.

Every tiny pore must be freed from clogging accumulations, so that the network of minute glands can do their necessary work. If you fail to cleanse the skin daily it will get sluggish and inactive, lifeless and sallow. Blackheads will develop the filled up pores will enlarge into unattractive coarseness and dirt infections, irritation and pimples will result.

For this cleansing you must use a mild soap. Palmolive is made from Palm and Olive oils. For thousands of years these rare oils have been used by famous beauties. They were highly prized by Cleopatra.

Today these oils are blended to produce the most famous of all modern soaps—Palmolive. It produces a profuse creamy lather which is as smooth as a lotion. It penetrates every tiny pore and removes every trace of dirt, oil and cosmetics, leaving the skin wonderfully smooth, fresh and rosy.

You can buy Palmolive Soap at all first class groceries and drug stores.

WILLIAM WRIGLEY, JR., AND PROSPERITY

That business is improving in the East and that this condition is spreading to the Middle West by degrees, is the opinion of William Wrigley, Jr., Co., Chicago.

The good old American dollar is coming back into its own. People from one end of the nation to the other are getting around to the idea that the only basis for real prosperity is an honest day's work for a fair day's wage.

The United States as a whole has been on a "business spree" for the past five years. Prices, up to recently, were out of all sense of proportion for the value received.

The greatest cure for hard times, Mr. Wrigley says, is to stop talking about hard times, get to work and keep money and goods circulating.

"The year 1921 was regarded as a pretty bad period for lots of concerns in the East and Middle West," said Mr. Wrigley. "For us it was the best year in the thirty years I have been in the chewing gum manufacturing industry."

"We are spending $11,000,000 a day this year to push Wrigley's Chewing Gum."

"The judicious use of printer's ink is the greatest selling force in the world. If you do business on a world-wide basis, or even in the locality encompassed within a few blocks, you have got to keep the people interested or you won't sell them your goods."

A DANGEROUS ILLUSION

"Is the American presently to become a disillusioned race?" asks someone. "A sage once said that the Celt was a dreamer, that the Anglo-Saxon was a practical man of affairs, that the Irish had a sense of humor. In the light of more recent information on these facts, are they still tenable?"

Well, perhaps they are not; perhaps the value of the few facts available was over-estimated, bringing conclusions not altogether warranted. But there is no danger that Americans shall presently be without illusions, no matter how relentlessly science sets to work to convert beliefs into lost illusions. There is no danger in hanging on to some illusions a little too long. There is, to put the matter concretely, a real danger in clinging to the illusion that right men will come to the front of their own accord.

Such an illusion about the practical working out of democracy can not be got rid of too soon. However problems can be righted only by those who take in their solution an active part. There is no illusion for which Americans pay more dearly than for the one prevalent in policies of letting "George do it." Democracy means political co-operation, and when a great number of people fail to co-operate, democracy must fail to function adequately. If the people want to make sure that the best man gets into office, they must take pains to find him and to put him into office. Every other theory of democracy is illusion, and a costly one at that.

There is money in the installment business—but not if you have been buying things that way.

WORDS FROM HOME

Statements That May Be Investigated—Testimony of Paris Citizens

When a Paris citizen comes to the front, telling his friends and neighbors of his experience, you can rely on his sincerity. The statements of people residing in far away places do not command your confidence. Home endorsement is the kind that backs Doan's Kidney Pills. Such testimony is convincing. Investigation proves it true. Below is a statement of a Paris resident. No stronger proof of merit can be had.

Joe Kiely, proprietor repair shop, 11 Seventh street, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills did me a world of good and I take pleasure in recommending them to anyone suffering with kidney complaint and my back ached most of the time. My kidneys were weak and the secretions were highly colored and contained sediment. I lost my sleep at night as there was no let up to the pain in my back. I got four boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills at Ardery's Drug Store and used them according to directions. They rid me of the trouble entirely."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Kiely had. Foster-McBurn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

PREPARATION SUCCEEDS

It is youth which pays most dearly for procrastination. For it is when we are young that we should lay the foundations for future achievements, and by putting off the preparation which such achievements demand failure is invited when in later years the test comes.

This message is deserving of re-statement. Time out of mind it has been handed down from generation to generation. Adorned by the addition of an appropriate fable, or with illustrations taken from current daily life, or rounded off with an old proverb, this message has come down from days before books were in existence, from such early times in which man had not yet learned to use the written word.

But not even its age can rob this advice of its force. Indeed, as the prospects for the young to make good later in life grow more abundant, it is the more necessary that he who would succeed should take pains to insure success by getting the right kind of start. Youth is not so limited in its possibilities to make good as it once was. No matter in what station of life he is born to-day any ambitious boy may, if not achieve greatness, at least come close to it.

But it depends on the right kind of start. He can not leave school at the sixth or seventh grade and hope to succeed against those who have been better trained. He can not in early youth shirk whatever duties the day's work may bring and still hope to attain the moral caliber necessary for good work later in life. He can not always take the easier way without losing the very force by which great deeds are done.

Strength of character and ability to perform distinctive work are the result of constant effort in youth when habits are most easily formed. This is as true to-day as it was 1,000 years ago.

A CONFESSED WEAKNESS

I think that I can stand it when the tulips nod to me,
With the blue skies high above me
and the green upon the tree;
I think that I can listen to the robins' cheerful song
And still go about my duty, tho the tempter's voice is strong;
But I know that I shall weaken and forsake the haunts of men
When I hear some glad voice shouting that the fishing's good again.

The lure of spring is mighty and the blossoms on the trees
Have a coaxing way about them and a manner, if you please,
That upsets my stock of courage—but I think I can resist
The urge to drop my burdens, tho I'll fidget and I'll twist
And hunger for my freedom, but I know I'll drop my pen
At the first glad indication that the fishing's good again.

I think that I can stand it when the green is on the tree
And the wish to play the loafer starts the wanderlust in me,
But if I am at the window and two boys should chance to stroll
With their poles upon their shoulders to a certain fishing hole,
Then no power on earth can hold me I shall quit my stuffy den—
For I can't resist temptation when the fishing's good again.

Just History

In '78
The Colonial Dame
Spun her cloth
By Candle flame.

In 1880
In Crinoline bright,
She greeted her guests
By Coal Oil Light.

And later on,
How time does pass
Her home was lit
By flickering Gas.

But the girl of to-day
Who wants her home bright,
Just presses a button
And has Electric Light.

Miss Davis is a pleasant student and athlete and an all-round splendid young woman, who will be heard from in the days to come."

The Millbourn Theatre was conducted as a motion picture show by Mr. and Mrs. Tony Zellers, who had sold the lease and were preparing to retire from business. The building was to have been remodeled for a dry goods store. The Paris fire department was summoned about 12:30 o'clock. The building was gutted by the time they arrived. The loss was estimated yesterday at $15,000, with reported insurance of $5,000 on the building, and $2,500 on the theatre. The fire sprang from two sources and incendiary is suspected.

—Millersburg has again been visited with a disastrous fire. About 12 o'clock Wednesday night the alarm of fire was sounded and cries of fire rang from the voices of many who were in the immediate vicinity. It was found to be in the Ingels Building, the lower floor being occupied by the Millbourn Theatre and the flat above occupied by Bruce McMahan and family, Wadell Beeding and family, and E. T. Beeding, all of whom barely escaped with their lives, losing all their household effects and clothing, with no insurance. Had it not been that T. E. Bowles was acting as night watchman at the Farmers Bank, there is no doubt but what there would have been a loss of lives. As it was, the residents barely escaped in their night clothes, and Mr. T. G. Beeding, who was in the rear of the building and cut off from the stairway, was removed by ladders being placed at the window. All credit is due to the Paris Fire Department, who immediately answered the call for help and made the run in ten minutes and soon had the fire under control. The large plate glass windows in the Farmers Bank and postoffice were broken from the heat and had it not been the wind was blowing in the opposite direction the whole block would have been destroyed. As it is, two of the most prominent corner buildings of the town are now in ruins, the Sandusky building having burned several years ago.

MILLERSBURG COUNTY HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

—School resumed work Monday after taking a week's recess in order that the faculty might attend the Kentucky Educational Association at Louisville, which had the largest attendance this year of any year of its history, extending over a period of fifty-one years. Bourbon county was one on the list of counties having an enrolled membership of 100%.

There will be an "Old Fiddlers' Contest" at the High School gymnasium May 7, given under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association for the purpose of erecting a wireless station on the school premises. The committee on playground apparatus, consisting of Misses Tom Brown, Will Crouch and Henry Bolling, has just succeeded in placing on the athletic field a slide which is delighting the small tots (and some who are not so small.) Our playgrounds is beginning to take on the appearance of an up-to-date children's playground, with its merry-go-round, giant stride and numerous see-saws with which this good committee has furnished it, and that the youngsters are enjoying it is attested to be the fact that the early morning hours find them on the playgrounds.

Wednesday's Chapel exercises were conducted by the pupils of Miss Elizabeth Rice, teacher of the Sixth Grade. The little play, entitled "The School at Hickory Holler," put on by the pupils, was mirth-provoking from beginning to end and carried older ones back to the days of the stern, spectacled pedagogues, with the birch rods, nail keg seats and the old gourd dipper. The program was thoroughly enjoyed by every one present. The visitors present were Mesdames J. W. Lancaster, Arnold Case, Dennis McMahon, Ed Hill, J. M. McVey, John Purdy, R. C. Bonar, Henry Bolling, Nannie Wilson, David Cassidy, Elizabeth Reynolds, W. F. Saunders, C. M. Best, O. E. Hurst, Clara Dabney, I. N. Brown, Minnie Rule, Jesse Mastin, Elmer Claxon, Walter May, Mrs. Wells, W. B. Claypoole, Strother Banta, Ollie Banta, Hargis Banta, Pearl Hill, Will Judy, John Ingels, James Burroughs, Joe Bodkin, E. P. Wagoner, Raymond Taylor, Oliver Wagoner, John Hill, J. D. Calhoun, Mack Jones, Mrs. Tabb, O. L. Potts, George Bramlette, W. D. Welburn, A. M. Vaught and little daughter, Sallie Taylor; Messrs. J. M. McVey, David Cassidy, Dr. H. C. Burroughs, Dr. H. M. Boxley, W. F. Saunders, Tom Thorn, Tom Brown, Rev. W. D. Welburn, E. P. Wagoner; Misses Carrie Peed, Lillian Bodkin, Grace Alexander, little Misses Eleanor and Doris Claxon, Ellen Wells, Josephine May, Christine Lancaster, Mary Ellen Saunders, Margaret Hurst, Masters Johnny Reynolds, Neville Claxon and Raymond Taylor, and several other youthful visitors whose name we could not learn. This is the largest number of visitors that any of the grade programs have called out and Miss Rice and pupils are to be congratulated on their success.

It was interesting to note that the visitors ranged in age from four months to four score years.

Next Wednesday's Chapel exercises will be conducted by the pupils of the Seventh and Eighth grades, under the direction of Miss Jessie Christ.

The public is cordially invited to attend these exercises.

LEXINGTON PREPARING FOR SPRING RACE MEETING

The preparation of the track and grounds for the racing meeting which will open in Lexington on April 29 is practically completed, and only finishing touches remain to be added here and there.

"I am further advanced in my work than ever before at this time of the year," said Track Superintendent John M. Keegan.

Racing Secretary W. H. Shelley arrived from his home in Louisville and immediately began to assist Resident Manager T. C. Bradley in getting things in shape for the meeting. Mr. Shelley reported that there would be a large shipment of horses to the Lexington track within the next few days to participate in the meeting and that the Louisville thoroughbreds were in excellent condition.

THE SKIRTLESS AGE

Judging from what the old-fashioned are saying about the knickers some of the more daring and "liberated" of the fair sex are wearing, it begins to look as though the immediate future may be recorded in years farther off as the "skirtless age." There is almost enough criticism of knickers to make every girl want to wear them. That they are sensible will, of course, have nothing to do with deciding whether knickers are to be only a fad or something more.

About four years ago, in the midst of the war, it seems that knickers were "coming in." To be sure, these were a part of the uniform approved for war workers. But the female occupants of many industrial posts aforesaid filled by men arrayed themselves in bifurcated garments and seemed to like the change. Perhaps because they created no sensation and the wearers apparently were not conscious of doing anything that might reasonably attract attention was why the affection did not become general and was abandoned as soon as the war ended.

But the war-time girl evolved into the flapper, and the latter seemed determined to have her sensation. Short skirts were taken as a matter of course, so she is doing what naturally, would be supposed to be the next best thing to do—do away with skirts entirely. So there is something of a controversy raging about the propriety of the thing. Conservatives and liberals are having their serious say, while just ordinary people go their way calmly, unconcerned about the pitimate issue.

It is, at any rate, not worth while getting excited about, since the girls will do as they choose anyway.
